Recognized for Best New Computer Software Product in Third Annual American Business Awards Celebration

Greenbrae, Calif., June 9, 2005 – MindBox LLC won the prestigious Stevie Award this week for best new computer software product in The 2005 American Business Awards program. MindBox and its MindBox Power Editor software were chosen from a field of 1,200 nominations in 40 categories.

MindBox competed head-to-head with well-known computer software companies such as SAS, and Vignette Corporation, and shared the winners' circle with such well known brands as AT&T, Verizon Communications, Travelocity, and Oracle.

MindBox LLC is a leading provider of rules-based software products for automating loan origination decisions, deal structuring, product eligibility, pricing and loan underwriting. MindBox's award-winning Power Editor is the first product to allow regular business users to maintain and manage complex business rules and policies, which until now had to be handled by IT department staff.

Hailed as "the business world's own Oscars" by the New York Post (April 27, 2005), The American Business Awards are the first national, all-encompassing business awards program honoring great performances in the workplace.

Nicknamed the Stevies for the Greek word "crowned," the awards were presented during ceremonies at the Marriott Marquis Hotel in New York City. The ceremonies were hosted by CNN personality Ali Velshi, videocast live on the Internet, and broadcast nationwide on radio. Donald J. Trump received the first Lifetime Achievement Stevie Award.

"We are both pleased and honored that MindBox received a Stevie award. It was made possible by the hard work and creativity of our engineers and other MindBox employees. It's great to be recognized for the MindBox Power Editor. We are very proud of this ground breaking product.” said Rich Barfus, President and CEO of MindBox LLC. “We set out to develop the world’s best technology for automating the complex underwriting decisions and other lending decisions necessary in originating loans. This week at the Stevies we earned credit for all of that hard work.”

“This year we once again honored outstanding companies and the individuals and teams within them,” said Michael Gallagher, founder and president of The Stevie Awards, the organization that runs The American Business Awards. “The American Business Awards have grown so quickly because there was a need for a program such as this, to shine a spotlight on executives and businesses that too often go unheralded. Congratulations to all of our 2005 Finalists and Stevie Award winners.”
